Overview of the Job

What's involved in a dealer's job?

The role of a dealer is to provide great customer service by creating an experience the guest will enjoy and want to repeat. A dealer can impact a guest experience by greeting guests, initiating conversation, promoting casino amenities, and simply ensuring everyone has a good time whether they win or lose. You must have the ability to entertain while knowing and adhering to the rules of play and policies and procedures. Dealers will be responsible for dealing the games in which they have been trained and tested.

As a dealer, you will work in sections called "pits"; a pit is an area containing table games. The size of pits varies depending upon the location and the game. Each pit is managed by table games supervisors and pit managers. As a dealer, you are under constant video surveillance by cameras and monitoring by your supervisors and pit managers. The ability to pay attention to detail, know and apply the rules of play and continuing to develop your game skill are critical to your success in this role.

Communication in such a large department means that dealers must take personal accountability for keeping informed. Scheduling software is frequently used as a communication vehicle to keep dealers informed along with the company intranet and a department bulletin board. Game and section rotations are dependent upon the game skill of the dealer and meeting the operational needs of the gaming floor.

This position requires the successful candidate to obtain a gaming license from the AGCO. For further details on this process visit their website at www.agco.on.ca.

Regardless of your assigned section, you will be expected to maintain cleanliness and promote casino amenities, such as our restaurants, entertainment and hotel. You will interact directly with our guests and this role requires individuals with a warm, friendly personality with an understanding of delivering service with a smile.

The Table Games Department

The table games department is a large department in the casino with associates who work at both properties. The department has an executive director, a director, senior managers, shift managers, property shift managers, a table training compliance and policy manager, a strategic planning manager, pit managers, supervisors, dealers, table games maintenance and administrative staff. We pride ourselves in working as a team regardless of which position you hold or which site you are scheduled to work at. We have a very experienced team who are always willing to lend a hand when needed.

According to our dealers, the amount of supervision you can expect is...

"Maximum, we work under surveillance cameras all the time and supervisors and pit managers are always in the pit."

Supervisors and pit managers will always be in the pit to ensure that rules of play and policies and procedures are followed; and to ensure that you are completing your job in conjunction with our service standards and to ensure help is available if you require assistance.

Locations and Shift Length

What type of training will I receive as a new dealer?

All new associates serve a 90-day probationary period beginning with your first day of work. The following types of training are provided to orient you to the company and your position.

• New Hire Orientation:

A comprehensive day of guided training that familiarizes you with Niagara Casinos' policies and procedures, health and safety, regulatory compliance and customer service expectations.

• Department Orientation:

This training covers specific information regarding your department's policies, procedures, standards, job expectations and includes a property tour. The number of departmental training days will be based on your experience level and game skill when you are hired.

• Job Shadowing:

This on-the-job training ensures that you are able to fulfill the requirements of the role. You will work alongside an experienced supervisor and pit manager who will monitor you closely. This type of training provides you with a complete picture of your department's daily activities during all three shifts.

• Final Assessment:

Your performance will be assessed. If you are unsuccessful, a member of the supervisory team will identify your specific areas for improvement. You will be provided with assistance to help you achieve the expected performance levels and behaviours. If you successfully pass the assessment you will be assigned scheduled shifts. It is important to ask for help if required during your training period and ask questions if you require clarification.
